

- Dates for your diary:
- Monday: Swimming and Attention Autism Art. Julie will no longer be with us on Mondays but we are welcoming Claire who will be her cover!
- Tuesday: Shopping at Tesco. I have slightly altered the timetable to ensure that we have the bus ready for our community visits and that Julie is available to drive us.
- Tuesday: Drumming for some.
- Thursday: Soft play for some and focused numeracy/literacy for those staying at school!
- Friday: Our community visit and some time chilling to some relaxing music in the sensory room!

Wishing you an exciting weekend! - Dan, Caroline, Jo, Nick, and Julie

Don't forget to keep checking our school website for lots of info and links to useful sites.

Happy Belated Newsletter! 10/03/2017

Hello!

Apologies for the lack of newsletter last week! I wasn't feeling too fantastic and hadn't managed to have a newsletter ready in advance.

Monday saw some fantastic swimming at Clarendon pool, especially from Alfie! Alfie was able to swim, with support, around 10 widths of the pool AND dive under the water to retrieve objects on the surface.

Super job Alfie! Tom is also making really solid progress and we are very proud of him!

Tuesday saw a visit to Tesco in Trowbridge to gather our cooking ingredients, plus a few extra items on our shopping list as Mr Mattravis forgot to pack his lunch! We then had a lovely drink and a snack in the café before returning to school.

Wednesday saw our usual communication session as well as our sensory story. The children are getting extremely good at anticipating the next events of the story.

Tom even referred to a parachute that he played with over the weekend as the "Hot air balloon", which is fab as this is the object of reference in our story!

Wednesday afternoon was our weekly cookery session, during which we made tortilla pizzas using wraps! This was a simple but delicious recipe and was very much enjoyed by all, especially the grown ups! If you would like the recipe to give these a go at home then give me a shout.

Thursday saw our soft play adventurers head off whilst our literacy and numeracy group focused on things that are heavy and light. Tom, Alfie, Arran and Amy have grasped the idea of weight and mass extremely well! P.E saw an enjoyable session of thinking about "over" and "under"

We rounded off the week with a café visit and time in the sensory room! Have a good weekend! Dan.
