Hello!

It's been another busy week in Robins – we've had to cram all our usual activities in to 4 fun filled days!

Our topic is still All About Me, and as we did so well making delicious faces from biscuits and sweeties; this week, we kept the same activity but extended it by changing the ingredients to vegetables that the children had to chop to make the facial features. They placed their chopped vegetables (cucumber, tomato, beetroot and pepper) onto tortilla bread that they had spread with yummy hummus. All the children engaged really well in exploring and chopping the vegetables – they loved it! They were just less keen to try the ingredients this time! ☺ We will keep working at it!

We are piloting Nurture sessions for some children across Wrens and Robins Class. On a Friday, however, we do a whole class Nurture Session as part of our PSED curriculum. Part of the session involves making toast together and spreading it with butter and choosing a delicious spread to go on it (Currently, there is a choice between chocolate spread, jam and marmite – although everyone absolutely always chooses the super scrummy chocolate spread or just butter!) and then we sit together as a little Robins Family to eat our toast. The whole classroom smells delicious and it has been really successful – all of the children will help make the toast and most of them will even eat the toast - which has made me really proud!

We have done other things that haven't involved food, I promise! We had a great time painting yesterday – as you may have noticed! Some of the children lay down on big pieces of paper and we drew around them, cut out the shape of them and then painted it. Great fun!

The office have asked me to remind me you that if you have not returned the Flu Immunisation forms please can you do so ASAP, even if you do not want your child to be immunised. Thank you!

Also, it's parents' evening on Tuesday – if you can't make it, don't worry, I will telephone you to discuss your child's IEP targets.

Wishing you all a wonderful weekend!

Rachel ☺
