Friday 3 Feb 2017

Dear Parents & Carers

We've had some wonderful 'Good Morning' sessions this week. The children (and staff!) really like this session and are very familiar with its sequence. It may be time to add a little extra in to challenge everyone! There has been some fantastic responses and purposeful pressing of the switch. We even have a lovely little Robin some mornings who has been an absolute star this week.

Happy Birthday for Sunday
Jai.
Have a great day.

Next Thursday is a whole school activity day with a maths & DT focus. In the lower school we will be exploring textures, building houses for the 3 little pigs and enjoying a variety of sensory activities. It's going to be fun!

Next week I'll share some photos of our African Art Day with Becky which has taken place today. We chose Africa because it is one of the places our flying carpet takes us!

Have a really good weekend. Mandy & Bluebirds Team
