

28th April 2017

Hello!

I hope that you all had a lovely Easter break! Everyone has settled back into school very quickly – it's like we were never away! A big thank you to everyone who has sent back the sun cream permission slips. Even though we have had a few frosty mornings this week, I am hoping the sun will be back soon and I want to be prepared! Don't worry if you have lost the letter – just let us know that you need a new one via the home school book, and we'll pop a new one out to you. We cannot put sun cream on your child if we don't have your permission.

This term's topic is Shopping. We have been thinking about where you might shop for different kinds of food, for example the green grocers, the bakery and the butchers etc. We have been finding items on a shopping list, counting out our pennies, practising what to say if you're a shop keeper or a customer and we've made some currant buns to sell in a baker's shop! And this is just the first week – there's no stopping us!

Becky, our Artist in Residence, is planning an amazing multi-sensory art installation and she needs a bit of help. If you have any old picture frames (without glass) that you don't need any more, then Becky would be very pleased to have them. If you have any that you can donate then please just pop them in a bag and send them into school with your child and we will pass them on to Becky.

And finally; please can you make sure that you put your child's name on all their items of clothing, including PE kits and swimming kits etc! It really helps us to re-unite things with their owners much quicker!

And also, don't forget that school is closed on Monday for the bank holiday and it's also closed on Tuesday (2nd May) for a TD day.

Have a wonderful long weekend!

Rachel

Happy
Weekend!
