Dear Parents & Carers

It's been an unusual week, but still full to the brim with WOWS.

There have been several absences so we've been helping out in other classes and have been able to do hydrotherapy a couple of times.

On Monday we had a percussionist in to give a concert which was a real treat.

We've had the Magic Carpet, eye-gaze technology, switch work and lots of physio. We have been using Evidence for Learning to record all task work and observations. So far, so good

Lydia brought in one of her Christmas presents to share during our Good Morning session. It was an amazing 'Zwischerbox' - a motion activated bird box which plays birdsong. Here are the details. We will definitely be buying one for class.
