

1st March 2019

Hello!

I hope that you all had a lovely half term break. It's good to see every one back and raring to go!

We are continuing with our theme of The Earth this term, though we are going waaaaay back through the mists of Time to an era when Dinosaurs ruled the Earth... Don't worry though, we are excellent T-Rex tamers! We will be doing lots of sensory dino themed play, thinking about different textures, such as crunchy (and munchy!), soft and hard. We'll be doing lots of different dinosaur dancing, making some dinosaur music and finding out what dinosaurs like to eat ... hopefully, not Robins!

As well as dinosaurs, we are also thinking about the Weather and we are on the look out for Spring – which we thought we'd found this week, but now we are not so sure! We will be experiencing lots of different weather types, as well as a spot of gardening.

In PE, we have Sam, a cricket coach, coming in to teach us some basic cricketing skills this term. And in RE we will be thinking about the Hindu festival of colour –Holi and the Christian festival of Easter. So we are going to be very busy indeed this term!

But not so busy that we won't have time for an Art and Music day of Thursday the 7th March; World Book Day (which we've had to budge up a day to make room for the Art and Music Day!) on Friday 8th March and Red Nose Day on Friday 15th March! Details to follow.

This week we have had great fun making a dinosaur swamp and a following a dinosaur trail, which led us to some pretty scary looking dinosaurs! We also had great fun playing in the rain on the sunniest day of the year! We also made some Dinosaur Nests in cooking, which, I have to say are pretty scrummy!

Wishing you all a wonderful weekend – let's hope that the sun comes back!

Have Fun!

Rachel ☺
